

On March 5th, Judy Bradt, CEO of Summit Insight, will be presenting a webinar titled “Seven Steps To Federal Business: Roadmap To The Win.”

In this webinar, Judy Bradt will share a seven-step roadmap to success in the government marketplace. You will learn how to assess whether (and when) federal contracting is right for your business and will come away with a systematic plan to help you decide what to do next. Each step includes critical concepts that successful companies master as they launch and grow their government contracting business. These seven steps draw on the experience of leading specialists in diverse aspects of government business and rely on hard statistics and analysis of what it takes to succeed in the government marketplace – who wins, who loses, and what works.
